

March sets in and flowers bloom
So unaware of clouds that loom
Above our heads came fear and doom
And now there'd be a fight for room

Stuck in the house, trapped in a box
Siblings in your way like rocks
Keeping sane, might go on walks
Find a hobby, watch TED talks

Falling down a hole of boredom
With no side to grab a hold on Trying now to get a move on
Stay inside and get your screen on

Voices raise in great upheaval
How to navigate this evil
Which plagues and hastens to unravel
Everything we thought was normal

Feel myself sit back and moan
But now, my faith has only grown
I see, through all, his love is shown
Comfort and peace in God alone
