

When it's over.

When it's over,

may we never again

take for granted

A handshake with a friend

A family get together on the weekend

Our alarm clocks yelling at us to get out of bed every morning for school.

A hot day at the pool

The gasp in the gym of a friday night basketball game

The lame sub in our 4th hour

Losing track of time

Waiting in a footlocker line

Laughing with classmates

Going to another state

Being on family vacation

Touching someone without hesitation

Mile-high ice-cream cones

Bringing someone home
